Collaboration has created a network of resources that play a pivotal role in the ability of parents, teachers, other caregivers, and an engaged community to be vigilant supporters of our children's school readiness. In other words, there is a broad spectrum of widespread interest in school success, and a path to lifelong learning. When needs exist there must be systems in place to bring remedies that promote progress. Collaborative relationships allow families to have the support they need to equip their children with tools necessary for learning. Research repeatedly tells us the window of opportunity for capitalizing on brain growth and development is before age four. We would be remiss to sit by while this window closes and not seize every moment possible to advance a foundation for learning.

Sustained partnership with community stakeholders has been paramount for undergirding awareness for the importance of investing in early childhood services and programs. The Chester County Community Coalition, Chester School District, Chester County Library, Head Start, Hazel Pittman Center, YMCA, Chester County Government and Chester Department of Social Services have been unwavering in their support for children and their families. The Chester County First Steps Partnership Board believes each child starting school healthy and ready to succeed is imperative; we must invest today in the children who will lead us tomorrow.

What We Do

Each of the six color blocks of the First Steps logo represents a core area of service, outlining our comprehensive strategy to prepare children for long-term school success.

With measurable outcomes across each of its six school readiness strategy areas, First Steps is getting results.

Healthy Start

We begin with a focus on providing a healthy start to life. This includes prenatal and post-partum services for both mother and baby. In 2007, First Steps collaborated with key philanthropic and agency partners to bring Nurse-Family Partnership to SC having a significant impact on reducing premature births and Medicaid costs.

Quality Childcare

Quality childcare starts with quality childcare providers. Our quality enhancement and training strategies lead to improved teacher-student interaction, which research shows has a significant impact on a child’s development and success in school.

Family Strengthening

Our home visitation strategies, such as Parents as Teachers, Parent-Child Home and Early Steps to School Success, are helping parents understand their responsibilities to care for and be positive models for their children. As a result of First Steps’ intervention and parenting support, 66% of clients initially assessed at “low” levels of parenting have achieved moderate or high levels of parenting skill.

Early Education

Private-public partnerships through First Steps 4K have led to significant cost efficiencies in the delivery of publicly funded 4K. One recent analysis suggests First Steps is achieving comparable results, without the need for costly capital construction, for 80 cents on the dollar. Early Head Start expands quality early learning and family support to infants and toddlers.

Early Intervention

Children’s school readiness depends on their healthy growth and development. First Steps helps identify potential delays early through developmental screenings and referring children to BabyNet and other early intervention resources.

School Transition

Each of the corresponding blocks of services leads ultimately to the goal of transitioning children successfully to school. Programs like Countdown to Kindergarten are ultimately preparing children for school success.

Based on the needs of our community, Chester County First focuses its investments in Parents As Teachers and Childcare Training.

Parents play a critical role in their child's development.

Program Description

Parents as Teachers (PAT) is an evidence-based home visiting program designed to build strong communities, thriving families and children who are healthy, safe and ready to succeed. PAT services include:

1. Personal Visits at least twice monthly
2. Monthly Group Connections with other PAT families
3. Screenings and Assessments to identify developmental concerns
4. Connections to Outside Resources that families may need to succeed

Chester First Steps serves families in greatest need. Among our PAT families:

20.6% ... live in poverty
23.8% ... didn't graduate from high school
3.6% ... were teen parents

New Parent Educator, Robin Capers, shares a selfie with one of her babies, Miss Starr.

"Being a part of the PAT Program has helped me understand how to support my child's learning."

Providing Quality Care in Chester

4K Classrooms

Progress in quality early childhood programming is on the rise, a welcomed trend in Chester County. Two providers are making their own unique profile for best practices in 4K classrooms. Horizons Christian Academy and Richburg Child Development Center receive funding specifically designated for private child care providers. These centers offer the same quality early learning features found in public school 4K programs. Horizons Christian Academy is in their third year of offering this program to the Chester Community. Childcare services can be accessed following the end of the daily 4K preschool session. The well-trained staff is engaging with children and parents, as reflected in the waiting list for this popular program. Director, Gina Jordan emphasizes parental involvement that supports the children's growth in skills that advance current and future learning experiences. She is an avid early childhood messenger working hand-in-hand with parents that encourage enhancing learning domains.

Richburg Child Development Center is gaining momentum as their program embarks on its second year of offering quality 4K preschool services to the bustling community of Richburg that continues to witness an influx of new commerce to the area. Located a mile from interstate Highway 77 places this facility within a few minutes' drive from most businesses, schools and rural communities in its region. Joni Arrowood, leads her team with a attention on teacher professional development, acute teacher-child interactions for nurturing emerging critical thinking skills, and best practices in early childhood environments.

These examples are encouraging, hopefully soon additional early care sites will embrace implementing 4K programs to exemplify best practices in early childhood classrooms. The directors and staff of Horizons Christian Academy and Richburg Child Development Center attend many professional development classes during the year. This is a clear indication that growth is occurring on many levels resulting in environments that advance the optimum development of all the children at these centers.

First Steps Partnership Board

Board Success

Attention to community outreach is an ongoing practice of the Partnership Board. Messaging for services offered and special community projects begin with including all regions of the county. As regions are considered, so are the agencies, organizations, businesses, schools and churches. Key to the concept of outreach are the quarterly meetings of the Early Childhood Partners. This team of advisors is comprised of individuals from agencies that daily work with families. They can be counted on to work with the staff and board for including families of our youngest learners in their services. Representatives from Adult Education, Chester Department of Social Services, Horizons Christian Academy, the Library, Clemson Extension Services, Hazel Pittman Center and the City of Chester volunteer beyond the Early Childhood Partners commitment. Their understanding of the challenges and rewards of working with families has led to ideas that produced impactful outcomes. This input has also been a guiding light when designing focused special projects such as “Read to Me Wednesday.”

Moreover, Board leadership is instrumental for supporting for this agency’s strategies and mission. Their knowledge of the inner workings of other organizations and agencies has been significant when navigating options for overcoming difficulties that can arise when serving families, early childhood professionals and working with local partners. And, board members demonstrate their commitment by a willingness to serve, giving their time and resources for the greater good, the embodiment of a service philosophy.

Getting children ready for school.

The Goals of First Steps

- (1) provide parents with access to the support they might seek and want to strengthen their families and to promote the optimal development of their preschool children;
- (2) increase comprehensive services so children have reduced risk for major physical, developmental, and learning problems;
- (3) promote high-quality preschool programs that provide a healthy environment that will promote normal growth and development;
- (4) provide services so all children receive the protection, nutrition, and health care needed to thrive in the early years of life so they arrive at school ready to succeed; and
- (5) mobilize communities to focus efforts on providing enhanced services to support families and their young children so as to enable every child to reach school healthy and ready to succeed.
